GEF SERIES

PVC-free GEF (Grafityp Ecological Films) are the perfect environmentally friendly alternative to classic monomeric and polymeric calendered PVC signmaking films.

Grafityp PVC-free films come in two qualities: a gloss version with water based permanent acrylic adhesive and a matt version with a semi-permanent adhesive.

Grafityp PVC-free films are suitable for all indoor and outdoor advertising on an even surface. They have an outdoor life span of up to 5 years (applied vertically under Central European conditions).

Grafityp PVC-free films are polyolefine-based. They look the same, feel the same and can be applied in exactly the same way as PVC films, yet their composition is completely different. They are a less polluting synthetic material than PVC, as they don't contain any PVC or plasticizers, such as phthalates.

Grafityp PVC-free films are a more ecological solution during production, use and eventual disposal, as they contain less polluting substances. Grafityp PVC-free films therefore comply with the ever stricter European environmental regulations.
